Time to care for that nice green stuff!

By AUNT LIZ

Now that spring is finally here, and we do not have to worry about waking up to a snowy white landscape, another little problem will begin.

Plan on this being a noisy weekend.

Every mower will be working overtime practically around the clock.

But there is hope. A Canadian geneticist has come up with a new variety of grass. It sounds truly terrific.

It is described as repelling weeds, resists disease, dislikes fertilizer and stays green late in the season.

The best part is that it hardly grows.

It has been developed from various Alpine species of grass and the Canadian government is already using it along its highways.

But keep your mowers handy because it will not be produced commercially for several years.

While you are waiting and mowing, try this for an easy dinner.

It's another version of stir fried rice and substantial enough to be a main dish.

Have three cups of cooked rice ready. Also have a cup of diced celery, a cup of finely sliced green onions, tops too, about a third cup of chopped pimientos, a small can of sliced mushrooms, drained and two beaten eggs.

Slice about six pieces of bacon and slowly cook in a skillet. Pour off the fat except for about a tablespoon. Add the celery and onions and cook until tender. Then add the eggs and scramble. Next comes the rice, mushrooms and pimientos, stir gently together, add a good tablespoon of soy sauce, and it is ready.

With either cottage cheese dosed with bits of chives or an ordinary tossed salad, this is almost a meal, but not quite.

It needs a crowning touch that's for sure.

Real, it's easy to grab a package mix for a pie and hardly anyone knows the difference.

There is a great difference. Frankly, I hardly realized it until last week when a friend gave us a real homemade from scratch butterscotch pie.

Have a baked crust ready which you can cheat on and buy.

Make a syrup of three fourths cup of brown sugar and four tablespoons butter or margarine.

Move this into a double boiler and add one and two thirds cup of cold milk and scald. Mix a third cup of flour with a third cup of milk and add to the hot mixture, stirring it slowly. Cook for about 15 minutes then add two beaten eggs and cook a little longer.

When the filling is cooled add a dash of vanilla and put into the pie shell.

Using food staples, such as rice, in new ways can brighten your cooking—and your family's outlook on meals.

Pasta comes in more than 100 shapes and sizes.

The United States is the world's leading producer of peaches.

In 1959, when he was 27, Captain Allardyce Barclay of Ury, Scotland, but he could walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours. He did!

SAVING BABIES ... TREATMENT BEFORE BIRTH

April Murphy's life was saved two months before she was born, at the threshold of treatment before birth. Prenatal diagnosis showed that April inherited a rare enzyme disorder that had been fatal to her older sister. Mrs. Murphy was given massive doses of a vitamin needed to activate the enzyme. The courage and hope of the Murphy family, and of the March of Dimes grantees, who developed the treatment, were rewarded when April was born. She was the FIRST CHILD successfully treated in her mother's womb for this inherited birth defect. You can help make miracles happen.

Lewis succeeds Chapman as Ohio Power manager

Donald W. Lewis, administrative assistant for Ohio Power Company's Tiffin Division since 1975, has been named manager of the Willard area office, Division Manager Mark A. Bailey recently announced. The promotion became effective April 1.

Lewis, who resides at 30 Crestwood Drive, Willard, succeeds H.N. "Nick" Chapman, who in March was named marketing and customer service manager at the Tiffin Division office.

The new Willard area manager attended Ohio Northern university and in 1952 was employed in customer services work at Lima. Following other customer service assignments at Fostoria and Willard, Lewis was promoted to the administrative assistant post at Tiffin.

"Don's strong customer service background will blend well with his experience in media relations and participation with civic, educational and governmental organizations", Bailey said. "He's also been a resident of Willard for more than 20 years, and his familiarity with the community will be an asset in his new post as Willard area manager."

Lewis is a member of Grace Methodist Church, and the Tiffin Area Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife, Jean, have two daughters.

OHIO NATURALLY

As farmers' plows turn up the soil in the spring, they may also turn up Ohio's history in the form of arrowheads.

Arrowheads and other projectile points are often uncovered in fields where they were left behind by Indians hunting or camping in the area. The objects may date back 15,000 years or may have been used as recent as 200 years ago.

The arrowheads, spearheads, harpoon heads and scrapers were made of flint, which is now Ohio's official gemstone. A form of silica, flint is an enduring material, allowing many weapons and tools to retain their shape after having been buried for possibly thousands of years. Although these historic products are more likely to be discovered in heavily farmed areas, they can be found almost anywhere in the state.

Easily worked and chipped into shape, flint was important as the resource used for implements requiring razor-sharp edges. The mineral was quarried from Flint Ridge in Licking and Muskingum counties. This flint was valued by Indians from this region as well as others throughout the east-central United States who would travel hundreds of miles to obtain it. Even though these Indians were from different tribes there is no evidence that fighting took place at Flint Ridge; this unique and favored source location seems to have been neutral ground.

The flint exposed at Flint Ridge is known as the Vancort flint and was deposited during a brief incursion of the sea during the Pennsylvanian Period about 300 million years ago. The rock occurs in shades of red, pink, green, blue, yellow, black and white, and in many combinations of these colors. Where flint is found elsewhere in the state, it is usually black or white.

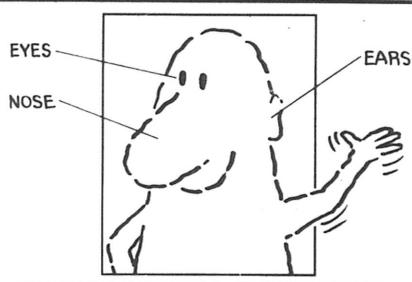

The Ohio Historical Society operates a museum and a park as a state memorial at Flint Ridge, just east of Newark.

YOU'RE WELL-EQUIPPED TO DETECT A GAS LEAK.

Fortunately, natural gas leaks are rare. But if one should occur, you have everything it takes to spot the telltale signs... the ability to see, hear and smell.

INSIDE

The most obvious sign is the smell. Natural gas by itself usually is odorless, so gas companies add a distinctive odor to gas.

If you smell this telltale odor in your home, don't use matches, electrical switches or appliances. Leave the house immediately, then call the gas company from a neighbor's home or pay telephone. Remain near your home until a gas company representative arrives and checks the cause of the odor.

OUTSIDE

You may detect a natural gas leak anywhere gas lines or facilities are located. Sometimes, the sign may be the odor. But in rural areas, natural gas pipelines may contain non-odorized gas. A leak of non-odorized gas means little or no odor will be present. So count on your other senses as well.

Look or listen for these signs. Anywhere a gas line is located, a leak may cause:

- a blowing or hissing sound
- dirt being blown into the air
- water bubbling or being blown into the air at a pond, creek or river
- brown patches in vegetation on or near a gas line right-of-way
- fire coming from the ground or burning above it

If you detect any sign of a leak, follow these steps quickly: 1) shut down any motorized equipment or other sources of ignition in use; 2) leave the area at once, and warn others to stay away; and 3) find a telephone away from the area to call the gas company, and the fire and police departments. DO NOT try to extinguish a gas fire or operate any pipeline valves.

Chances are you'll never need to recognize a natural gas leak. But just in case, we think it's important for you to be able to detect signs of trouble. Together, we'll keep natural gas service safe and efficient.

Brent Ragon saved a life with Red Cross CPR. Could you?

Fifteen-year-old Brent Ragon had no idea how soon he'd be using CPR to save someone's life when he completed his Red Cross training at a Youth Safety Seminar.
But, while Brent was riding the train home from that seminar, a man collapsed two rows behind him.

"He wasn't breathing, and I couldn't find a pulse," Brent recalls. "I wasn't scared. I didn't have time to be scared. I knew what to do and I did it."

If you were in Brent's place, would you know what to do?

We'll teach you.

Rx for Flu or Chicken Pox: Kindness

Be good to yourself when you've got the flu or chicken pox.
Take it easy. Get plenty of rest.

Viral illnesses such as these are usually self-limiting. Time will cure them.

Check with your doctor about using medications to treat the chicken pox. For children - including teenagers - medications
such as aspirin and aspirin-containing products may not be a good idea. A rare but dangerous condition called Reye syndrome may develop in young people just when they appear to be recovering. Studies suggest a link between the development of Reye and the use of aspirin to treat the flu or chicken pox.

So, treat yourself right when you've got the flu.
