

McIntires sell Square realty

Definitive departure from the Public Square as of May 31 at 5 p.m. is the plan of the Robert L. McIntires.

Mrs. McIntire last week sold the family business building at 13 East Main street to Mayor Keith A. Hebble and Mrs. Hebble for $26,000. The Hebbles plan through an agent to install a "mini-mall" of small retail outlets in the building, street to Louis Lynch, 3rd, who has rented the west portion, for long which has three floors above ground (the top floor has been in use for a generation) and a modern basement.

Mrs. McIntire sold the premises to the immediate west of the family business building, more often in the business, which the family bought almost a generation ago (it housed Beckwith's Confectionery for a number of years, breaking out the wait and enabling access to the space from the main store, to James McClure, who own the premises at 9 East Main street, for $10,000.

Earlier, Mrs. McIntire sold buildings owned by her husband's family since the 19th century at West Broadway and Plymouth small retail outlets in the building, street to Louis Lynch, 3rd, who has rented the west portion, for long occupied by Webber's Rexall store, to Ronnie Akers as the site for his carpet sales and installation and cleaning business, and retained the east portion, more often in the past 34 years occupied by several almost a generation ago (it housed Beckwith's Confectionery for a

The voice of The Advertiser —

Thank you not enough! Is the board red-faced?

The announcement of Tuesday does much to wipe away the bad taste created by the action of the board of education of a week previously.

The generosity of Mrs. McCullum, a 1926 alumna here, is overwhelming. It comes at the right time, for the right purpose, is in the hands of the right people, and it should be enormously appreciated by its beneficiaries.

We are constrained to observe that, based on 34 years of watching pupils and their parents here, such appreciation as may be advanced will not last long, more's the pity.

Two young people will receive $500 scholarships. There will be four next year.

These are the only restrictions applied against the disbursement of the income of the invested gift by its donor. The remainder of the funds may be spent for such activities as, in the judgment of the trustees, may carry out the general purposes of the Academic Boosters as enrolled in its bylaws.

Perhaps this will be a turning point. Almighty God knows that we surely need one.

It was ridiculous, perhaps even insulting, that, without any discussion publicly, the board of education should have approved the issuance to an honorary diploma to a pupil who forsook this district for another, certainly for legitimate but not memorable reasons, several years ago and who is a candidate for an earned diploma in that district. We can think of several hundreds of persons who, for one reason or another, could not or did not complete the four years of high school here to qualify for the diploma, but who have made countless contributions of value to the schools, to the community, to the economy and to society as a whole.

Why is it that they are not recognized with the award of an honorary diploma?

The request of the two 12th graders for an adjustment in the dress code to allow for wearing of clothing that will make the pupils heat more endurable was presented in an orderly, even admirable, fashion. The nature of the request is such that unless prompt action is taken, any advantage that may accrue by its approval will be vitiated by the lapse of time.

There were no cogent argument against the proposal offered during the board meeting, not by anybody.

That the pupils making the request indicated they would be satisfied with even a short-term trial of the alteration, from now until the end of the school year, showed their good will, common sense and willingness to cooperate.

We were, and are, appalled that the board, each of them more than old enough to be the parent of either of the two who requested the change, did not show as much.

MRS. MCCOLLUM

96 sign in ESOP at PLI

Ninety-six employees having signified they wish to participate in the ESOP buyout of Plymouth Locomotive Works by their new structure, Plymouth Locomotive International, officers of the latter executed Friday the purchase agreement with Banner Industries Inc., and Samuel J. Krasney, its principal executive officer, to take over the business.

The signing triggered some developments:

1. Decertification of the United Auto Works union, which was in the center of labor violence, the first in the village's history in 1983 took place at one. There is no union in the plant as of now.
2. "Inside" directors of PLI, who are Ervin Howard, Eldon Burkett, Larry Bailey, and Roy Collins began a 30-day lame duck period as officers. Before June 15, employees must vote upon nominees to replace them, or for them to continue. Paul Capelle, who was an "outside" director, now becomes an "inside" one. Nobody has yet said how the company will deal with the succession in his post. Will it appoint a new "outside" director, to maintain the arithmetic balance as before? Will it count Capelle among the "inside" directors and therefore vote for only three "inside" directors to serve permanently before June 15?

Mrs. McCollum makes $100K academics gift

Gift of $100,000 in trust to Viking Academic Boosters club, its annual proceeds to be applied to the program of the Boosters in support of academic achievement in Plymouth schools, was announced by the donor, Mrs. Leonard McCollum, and Eleanor Searle of Plymouth, at the annual awards banquet Tuesday night.

A 1926 graduate of Plymouth High school, Mrs. McCollum in her recorded announcement said she wishes her gift to be a memorial to her parents, the late Dr. George J. Searle and his second wife, the former Bertha Fenner, the sister of his first wife.

Mrs. McCollum has long been interested in the fine arts, principally vocal music — she is an accomplished singer, and earlier sought to induce the board of education to prepare plans for a building that would house a considerable audience for vocal and instrumental performances and dramatic arts presentations. She intended as well that there be space for use by Plymouth Area Historical society.

These plans ran afoul of difficulties that were never publicly identified but Mrs. McCollum persisted.

Through Michael R. Taylor, president of the Boosters, she negotiated a procedure by which $100,000 would be conveyed to the Boosters to a trio of trustees, they to disburse the income annually for two scholarships the first year, four each year thereafter.

The trustees are Taylor, Neil A. McKown, an attorney who lives here but practices in Shelby, and Donald Barnhouse, member of the board of education.

The first two winners of scholarships are Leah Jill Fultz and Tommy Ray Dials.

— Miss Fultz will matriculate in Ashland college, to study radio and television communications. Dials will enter Ohio university, Athens.

In his presentation, Taylor briefly described Mrs. McCollum's long and distinguished service to the arts, to charity, and to the church. He pointed out that she may not get to Plymouth so often as she did when her parents were alive, but she nevertheless retains close touch with the village and its affairs by telephone, written correspondence, and The Advertiser.

Accomplishments of the Boosters club so far, which suggests the pattern of its activities with freshmen funds, include:

1. Assistance to grade 12 mathematics class, and upper elementary, $185.
2. Support of trip to South Bass island by junior high school developmentally handicapped pupils, $252.
3. OSJ program bought for 85 fifth graders, $170.
4. Special art supply purchase for high school art classes, $15 each, and "Understanding Art", color slide purchase, $84.85.
5. Purchase of plant kingdom survey, science and biology department, $69.90.
6. Weather equipment for elementary pupils purchased.
7. Computers bought for first graders at Shiloh, $475 each.
8. Bulletin boards bought for Shiloh art classes, $225.
9. Shakespeare and other poster purchase, International school English classes, $65.
10. Trivial Pursuit in Spanish bought for Spanish classes, $105.
11. Creative writing guide and developmental reading assistance, bought for English III and IV, pupils, $105.
12. Business stimulating program bought for business education pupils, $190.

A throng of pupils and their parents gathered in the high school cafeteria for the program, during which two score pupils were recognized for academic achievement. Refreshments concluded the meeting.

Welfel quits at WAH

Resignation of Frederick Welfel as administrator of Willard Area Hospital was not hit.

He is said to have told the board that despite friction with the medical staff and other difficulties around "turning this situation around," he acknowledged that he did not succeed in overcoming the animosity of a majority of the medical staff and the target of 15 months he established as the turning point in hospital operations was not hit. Welfel apparently told the board that if a merger negotiation materializes, he will stay on until its conclusion, which he calculates to be sometime in October. This failing, he is understood to have said, he will quit Willard by Aug. 30.

Works, Inc., which is in the throes of an employee buyout that took effect Friday.

Welfel's resignation is the second of a rock fund in two weeks. Earlier, Paul Capelle, city manager and also a trustee of Willard Area hospital, Inc., resigned to accept appointment as president of Plymouth Locomotive International, a new firm and successor to Plymouth Locomotive

Fire guts dwelling of Mrs. Lynch

A fire Sunday noon virtually destroyed the home of Mrs. Arthur Lynch, Scott road 50.

Plymouth firemen received the call about 11:30 a.m. By the time they reached the house, the blaze had burned upward through the rafters.

It was apparently caused by the faulty chimney of a wood burning stove. Terry Lynch had built a fire earlier in the morning and left the house. His mother left later. It was discovered by Gary Lynch when he could see the shooting flames through the roof.

Contents of the house were heavily damaged by water and smoke.

Mrs. Ervin, 92, life villager, dies at Shelby

A villager for five generations, Mrs. Clarence Ervin, 92, 247 West Broadway, died Saturday in Crestwood Care center, Shelby, of a brief illness.

Born in Plymouth, Florence Dallas May 21, 1894, she was the widow of a former village council man who died in 1967.

Memorial day set Monday to honor dead of nine wars

Lieut. Col. Daniel E. O'Mara, 3rd, chief of operational command and control chief, O'ANG, Mansfield, will deliver the Memorial day address in Greenlawn cemetery Monday.

A command pilot with over 6,000 hours of flying, including over 600 hours of combat flying, he is 44 years old, a native of Waltham, Mass., who holds the B. S. in Ed. degree in physical education of the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass., conferred in 1965.

He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the USAF July 10, 1965, and entered into active duty in October of that year. He attended pilot training school at Craig, AFB, Selma, Ala., graduating in October of 1966.

He flew air refueling tankers in Southeast Asia during the autumn of 1967, was transferred to cargo transport duty serving South Vietnam and Thailand during 1969 and 1970, and served five years in Alaska flying ski-equipped aircraft, then was released from active duty in 1976. He joined the O'ANG and now serves in the 179th Tactical Air Lift Group at Lahn airport in Mansfield.

The O'Maras have two children, Erin, 15, a ninth grader, and Kelly, 14, an eighth grader, both in Lexington schools. Parade will form in the Public Square at 9:45 a.m. and march as soon as feasible.

High school band will lead the march. James Caudill, William C. Jones, Enderby, William Robinson, Bernard A. Garrett, Percy W. Dean, James Enderby, Joel Van Loo, Merton Kessler, Theodore A. Ross, Harvey Robinson and J. Fidler, chairman, comprise the post's grave decorations details.

Fidler, the William D. Hills, Van Loo, Richard Helms, James Enderby and Ross, who is chairman, are members of the Memorial day committee.

Honor guard is comprised of Fidler, James C. Davis, Jerrold Harrington, Raymond Klemm, Lacey Williamson, John E. Heeden, Bland, Raymond Babcock and Robinson, commander.

Color guard consists of Vance C. Hoffman, Sr., James Enderby, Caudill, Arden Kessler and Hill, commander.

At the cenotaph in Greenlawn cemetery, flags will be posted and wreaths laid in memory of the dead of nine wars and of the Plymouth War.

Richard Mitchell, escorted by her husband, Revolutionary war.

Mrs. Russell Farmer, escorted by her husband, War of 1812; Mrs. James L. Jacobs, Sr., escorted by Joseph Woodmansee, War with Mexico; Mrs. James L. Jacobs, Sr., escorted by Joseph Woodmansee, War with Mexico;

Mrs. Jack Laser, escorted by her husband, fire department.

Garrett will conduct the pledge of allegiance at the cemetery. Oris J. Strohm in costume will repeat President's memorial address at Gettysburg and Helms will read the General Order of John A. Logan, commanding the G.A.R. and establishing Memorial day. Van Wagner will recite "In Flanders Field".

Invocation at the cemetery will be by Glorioso, post chaplain. Christian Thompson and Scott Gano, trumpeters, will sound taps and the echo. After the counter march of the parade to the Square, the post will be held at open house at its home, 112 Trust street.

Jail sentence given by mayor

Jail sentence of 30 days, with 20 suspended on condition of no similar convictions for one year, and fine of $500, of which $100 was suspended under the same conditions, were given to Gary M. Pottenger, Willard, by Mayor Keith Hebble May 13.

John Bruce Conley, Shiloh, was fined $100, of which $50 was suspended, for public intoxication, and $30, for disorderly conduct, to each of which he pleaded guilty.

Russell E. Carpenter, Willard, pleaded not guilty to drunken driving, weaving and possession of marijuana, all of which were continued for pre-trial hearing.

Charges of no turn signal, open tail while under suspension and possession of marijuana against Douglas D. Francis, Shiloh, were also continued.

Benjamin C. Gregg, Ashland, pleaded not guilty to speeding and will be heard Wednesday.

Plea of not guilty to operating while under suspension by John E. Stima, Tiro, was accepted by the

'Jams' request tabled for now

Three significant events, never before duplicated before Plymouth Board of Education since it was organized in 1869, occurred May 12, when the board conducted its regular May session a day later than usual, owing to conflict with the annual Firelands conference band concert.

1. Plymouth is now a member of the prestigious North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. The Advertiser first publicly called for such membership in its issue of Aug. 12, 1954, and has since repeated it 58 times. Only a final on-the-spot examination by NCASSC in October, an examination that now appears to be fading, stands between the district and full-fledged membership. A certificate and plaque issued by the organization granting membership were presented to the board by Granville Fleisher, high school principal.

2. A request by pupils directly to the board, to obtain a change in the dress code to allow high school pupils to wear "jams," described as knee-length pants for both sexes, in the period before Oct. 1 and after Apr. 1 was debated informally and then handed to a committee to be organized by Supt. Jeffrey Slauson, comprising two board members, Donald Barnhouse and Charles Reinhart, some teachers and some pupils, to make a final recommendation. Fleisher said the school requires some guidance in the matter, Slauson said he fears that the pupil handbook will "unnecessarily become cluttered with specific positions, and we don't particularly want to have to make the decision of whether the hem of a pair of pants is at the kneecap, half-an-inch above it, or what may be too high."

3. An honorary diploma for a former pupil, a candidate for a diploma in another school, was on recommendation of the Class of 1987, through his president and its adviser, Mrs. William Albright approved for issuance to him.

The board proceeded through 19 other items of a routine character without dissent by any member. These included:

1. Approval of three teachers in the newest county substitute list.

court.

Bench warrant will issue against Asrar G. Szabo, Greenwich, accused of driving without license tags.

Fines were assessed thus: For speeding: William L. Glock, Findlay, $50; Gerald W. Easary, Sr., Hattiesburg, Miss., $22; Roland D. Friennar, Shelby, $38; Russell E. Taylor, Willard, $36; John C. Striken, Kenton, $50; Vicki L. Mann, Willard, $38; Maahona M. Adams, Willard, $36; Also, Daniel R. Smart, Lexington, $30; Leonard N. Fox, Shelby, $22; Donald E. Blocker, Willard, $24; Robert L. Moser, Mansfield, $24; Barbara Ann Tackett, Willard, $22; Richard L. Boyer, Willard, $30; Joan L. Ratiff, Greenwich, $32.

Other charges: Ronald C. Shepherd, Willard, no rear bumper, $15; Linda Cains, Shelby, weaving, $15; Virgil T. Schroeder, Shelby, stop light, $15.

Bench warrant will issue against Jeffrey M. Potts, Shelby, accused of having a white light at the rear of his vehicle.

May 13, 10:32 a.m.: Animal complaint at 113 Mulberry street dealt with.

May 13, 10:54 a.m.: Vandalism at high school taken under investigation.

May 13, 12:09 p.m.: Edgel D. Thibault, summoned for disorderly conduct at 166 Sandusky street.

May 13, 4:19 p.m.: Summons served at 23 West High street.

May 14, 2:45 p.m.: Juvenile complaint received from 20 1/2 Sandusky street dealt with.

May 14, 6:46 p.m.: Summons served on David M. Cole.

May 14, 10:33 p.m.: Open door found at 29 West Broadway.

estimated next year by the federal government to number 149 children.

12. Hired Willard Taxi Co. to lift a special education pupil at $12 a day.

13. Continued to make space available to Pioneer Joint Vocational school for adult education, attended by 14 this year.

14. Certified a list of 88 candidates for the diploma, subject to successful completion of their assignments.

15. Accepted a report by Hart that the Chapter 1 review conducted by Douglas Reed, Columbus, showed the district to meet all standards in "suitable fashion", with one recommendation: there should be a formal statement of what funds are available and being spent in which building. This will be done, he said.

16. Accepted the lengthy written report of David Sotora, guidance counselor, who said about 25 of the graduates actively seek to continue their education. He told the board, which engaged him in lengthy colloquy, he needs some help, secretarial, mostly, to do the job properly.

17. Renewed a contract with Huron county schools for pay for some charges in the special education program. Slauson said he doubts that any pupils subject to this program will be enrolled next year.

18. Accepted invitation of Michael R. Taylor to attend annual awards ceremony of Viking Academic Coasters that took place Tuesday.

Rites, parade set at Shiloh; Smith to speak

Garret-Riet Post 503, American Legion, will conduct a short Memorial day service at 8:15 a.m. in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Parade will form in front of the post home, led by the Plymouth High school band, and will proceed to the Shiloh school building.

Guest speaker will be Dan Smith, Richland county treasurer. Open house will follow.

Shiloh at OSR for one year

A 26-year-old Shilohan was sent to prison Thursday by a Huron county common pleas judge after a finding of guilty on a charge of aggravated assault.

Ezell D. Hicks was accused of striking the face of his friend, Tommy Combs, Willard, with a crowbar on Sept. 10, 1986, after Combs drove him from Mansfield to his home.

A four-day trial concluded Apr. 2.

Hicks was sentenced to a year in the reformatory at Mansfield.

Banner shows reduced income

Banner Industries Inc., until Friday parent firm of what is now Plymouth Locomotive International, has fallen on harder times.

It reported net income for the third quarter ended Mar. 31 to have declined.

In anticipation of sale of Plymouth Locomotive Works, Banner declared it a discontinued operation and took a loss of $1.9 million.

Sales for the quarter amounted to $87,864,738, as compared with $34,540,917 a year ago. Net income, however, dropped to $5,885,906, as against $5,051,509 in 1986. This works out to $1.23 a share versus $1.25.

Stephens, D. Brannham win titles

Red boys tie for fourth, girls sixth at Crestview

Run Stephens is the 1987 champion of the Firelands conference in the 100-m. sprint.

He won the title at Oliveburg Saturday, flashing home in 11.3 sec.

Plymouth scored just 38 points to finish tied for fourth with Mapleton.

New London, to the surprise of almost nobody, is the team champion. The Wildcats scored 134 points.

Black River was second at 124, Crestview third at 112, then came the Big Red and the Mounties at 38.

There followed South Central and Western Reserve at 27 and St. Paul's with just one. Monroeville failed to score.

Plymouth girls produced a dual champion. She is Donnell Brannham, who won the 300-m. low hurdles in 49.2 secs., and the high jump at 4 ft. 8 in.

Plymouth's 3,200-m. relay team of Susan Helms, Jenny Adkins, Jenny Chase and Kathy Welker, outran the field with a time of 10 mins. 12.7 secs.

Big Red girls scored 50 to place sixth.

New London was the winner at 137. South Central was next at 68. St. Paul's scored 62 to place third, followed Monroeville at 57 and Mapleton at 52, Crestview at 26, Western Reserve at 23 and Black River at 21 completed the field.

Jason Robinson poled a long homer to left with the bases full and two out in the fourth inning here Friday to propel young Tony Robinson, a lite ninth grade right-hander, to his first victory, an 11 to 4 Firelands conference win over New London.

Plymouth loaded the bases in each of the first two innings, without a score.

The Wildcats got two walks and a double by Dwight Booth in the third for two runs.

The Big Red retaliated with one run in its half. Todd Wilson singled and stole second. Steve Hall drew an intentional base on balls. After Robinson fanned, Terry Hall's single scored Wilson. An unassisted double play at second by Lawrence Jackson pulled New London out of a tight spot.

In the fourth, Charley Beverly flied out to right and Errin Echeberry struck out. Lance Combs drew a pass from Mike Sunderman. So did Wilson. The Wildcats again refused to pitch to Steve Hall and sent him to first base.

It was a grave mistake Robinson picked one of Sunderman's offerings for a grand slam.

With one down, Rod Wilkeron singled. Dave Ash struck out. Booth then clouted the longest home run hit at Plymouth field in a long time, a high drive that alt on the school roof.

Leading by one at five to four, the Big Red put it on ice in its half. Beverly walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Echeberry's hit. Combs and Wilson drew walks. With the bases full and none out, New London was forced to pitch to Steve Hall. He delivered a ringing single up the middle, scoring two. Robinson doubled to score two. Terry Hall hit into a double play that erased him and Robinson third.

Plymouth was not finished. Mike Bailey batted for Beverly in the sixth and whacked one over the left-center fence.

Hall hits two homers, 7 RBI; Plymouth sacks Mapleton

Steve Hall celebrated his one-hit, 16 strikeout victory over Black River at Sullivan May 13 with a record-setting performance at Paik Thursday.

Cast in the role of designated hitter, he went to the plate in each of the first four innings. Result: Two hits, both home runs, the first with the bases loaded, the second with two on, to account for seven runs batted in with only two terms at bat. This is a new record. Six players had six runs batted in two consecutive terms at bat. The records are taken from the time when Plymouth limited its baseball competition to the spring. Before 1949, the baseball team played a split season, some games in the fall, the remainder in the spring.

Hall, with a batting average of .441 after Thursday's game, has hit seven home runs in 17 games, five in the last six. His pitching record is 5-and-0, his ERA .870, with 89 strikeouts (37 in his last two outings).

Plymouth set another record with 31 runs in seven innings. Previous high, tied by six teams, was 22.

Final score, Plymouth 31, with 19 hits, Mapleton 11 with 13 hits. The Mounties unloaded on Jeff Staggs in the opening inning. Glenn Forbush homered on the four of the seven innings.

'Colleen' sixth in condition pack at Northfield

A strong start and a weak finish describes the performance of Scrogie Colleen, five-year-old pacing mare belonging to Lysale and Robert Hamman, Noble road, snion, at Northfield Park Friday night.

Entered in the 11th race, a $4,000 conditioned event, she was off all from post position No. 3 and led at the quarter pole.

She faded to fifth at the half and finished sixth. Winning time was 2 mins. 4/5 sec.

Hall's one-hitter clips Pirates, 6-1

Steve Hall had a no-hitter going into the seventh at Sullivan May 13, until a scratch single in that inning broke the skein and enabled the Pirates to break the scoring ice.

He fanned 16.

Jeff Staggs poled three-run homer in the fourth to lead the Big Red.

Annual girls cage camp set June 22-27 at school; reservations by June 4

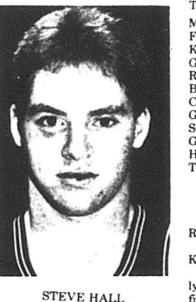

Girls' basketball camp will take place June 22-27, from 9 to 3 p.m. for girls below ninth grade in 1987-88, 9 a.m. to noon for high school girls.

Fee is $30. A $10 deposit, which is non-refundable, must be paid when the camp starts. Balance is due when it concludes.

For the fee each participant will receive a T-shirt, insurance coverage, instruction and trophies for the winners in several categories.

Application may be obtained at the high school, or the junior high school.

A permission form executed by a parent or guardian must be in the hands of the director, Michael Badertacher, Shiloh Elementary school, 26 Mechanic street, Shiloh, O., 44878, before June 5.

Three changes set in conference

Some coaching changes in the Firelands conference will occur before August rolls around.

Vickie Stoll succeeds Mrs. Dale Marshall as head volleyball coach at New London.

Steve Gilbert, highly successful football coach at Crestview, quits to take the head coaching job at Mansfield Senior High school.

William Lewis, the only football coach at South Central who has produced winning seasons, came under fire by a number of sidewalk coaches and alumni and has resigned. He has tenure, as does his wife, as an instructor. The word is that he has lined up the head coaching post at Granville High school.

Who's Barn'd? Shiloh stock!

The Doug Barn'd who is a consistent winner in distance events for the Shelby Whippets is the son of Larry Barn'd, Plymouth alumni and former coach here, and Mrs. Barn'd. His grandparents are long-standing Shilohans.

Ex-player lauds coach

Sir:

I would like to congratulate Coach Dave Dunn and the Plymouth boys' varsity basketball team on another excellent season. Coach Dunn has established himself as one of the best coaches in the area as well as in Plymouth's history. As a former player under coach Dunn for four years, I have grown to respect and admire him a great deal. During his career he has worked very hard at reaching his potential as a coach and developing a very successful program at Plymouth High school. He created confidence in his ballplayers and developed pride not only in themselves but in the school and the community.

Coach Dave Dunn has given Plymouth a great gift during his years as a teacher and a coach. He developed respect, discipline, and perseverance in his ballplayers, and his students. Thank you, sir, for your commitment to all of us and thank you especially for all you have taught me personally during my years at Plymouth High school. I wish you continued success in the future.

Sincerely,
Kevin Taylor

Kathy Chase and her father, Thomas, with Mrs. J. Max Fidler and Mrs. John Heden, attended the Girls' state orientation at O'Brian post, Shelby, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Chase is a delegate. Kathy Welker, the other delegate, and Jennifer Cole, alternate, were unable to attend because of previous commitments.

'85 alumna sets June 27 bridal
June 27 is the date chosen by Miss Karen Sue Stima, daughter of the Raymond Stimas, Route 103, Tiro, to be married in Shelby United Methodist church to Charles Bloom, son of the Donald Blooms, Mansfield route 9.

A 1985 alumna of Plymouth High school who attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school, Miss Stima is employed by Universal Enterprises, Mansfield. Her fiancé, a 1983 graduate of Northmor High school south of Galion who also attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school, is employed by Weber's Produce, Mansfield.

Julie Von Stein and Dean R. Russell, Shiloh, have been named to the dean's list of North Central Technical college for the winter quarter.

Stephanie Guthrie, a 1986 Plymouth High school graduate, was named to the dean's list at Bliss college, Columbus, and to the president's list. This is reserved only for those with averages of 4.0.

USPO snafu no matter, she recommends beans
The inspector, who was in the ways of the old west, said later, "I got."

That ended the happy little post office of Iron Rod, so maybe that is why it's no longer on the map.

Those wild west boys were a rough crowd. They all drank too much and gambled too much, but in between that had to eat.

It is an only guessing, but I think this is something they may have had. Perhaps a slightly different version, but it is a hearty dish that they would have relished.

Its for black beans and yellow rice.
Cook a cup of dried black beans until tender.

Then fry six slices of bacon, pour off the fat, but save a little, for which to saute a cup of chopped onions and two cloves of minced garlic.

Stir in a cup of rice, a dash of salt, a fourth of a teaspoon of turmeric, an eighth of a teaspoon of cayenne pepper and two cups of water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer about 10 minutes.

Add a chopped tomato and a half cup of diced cooked ham. Simmer all this until the rice is tender and the liquid is absorbed.

Put the rice mixture on a platter with the beans heaped in the middle.

Legion aids athletes; Shiloh's post to vote on slate of officers
Ehret Parsel Post 447 girls' softball team will again participate in the summer program starting next month, in a continuing effort by the post to "invest in youth."

The post in the past sponsored a PML team, a Lou Gehrig league nine and earlier girls' softball outfits.

Its contribution as last year will go toward a bill board displayed in centerfield in Weber stadium, home of midget league baseball in "Tymout."

The post has donated to help with the purchase of new equipment and uniforms for the Lou Gehrig league.

12 villagers perished in action in wars of nation

Twelve Plymouthites have lost their lives in defense of the nation. The three Civil War veterans are Thomas Smith Bodine, who died in the prison camp at Andersonville on Mar. 27, 1864; Walter Baker, who died in the hospital at Mitchellville, Tenn., in December, 1862; and Lieut. Thomas Bodley, who lost his life in the Battle of Chancellorsville on Sept. 19, 1863. They are buried in Pioneer Rest.

In Greenlawn cemetery there are a total of 133 Civil War soldiers, seven from the Spanish American War; 86 from World War I, 53 from World War II; seven from the Korean War; five from Vietnam, and one who served in the peace time army.

Thomas Crabbe, a long time resident and a past commander of Ehret-Parrel Post 447, American Legion, is buried in the Olivesburg cemetery. He served in both World Wars and Korea and is the most decorated veteran in the village has ever had. He twice won the Navy Cross.

'30 holiday set unique standard

Memorial day, 1930, was a landmark in Plymouth history. It was the last year the annual parade was led by a Civil War veteran.

He was Frank Tubbs. Another veteran was still living, Erza Kochenderfer, but he was confined to his bed.

Kochenderfer was one of the 27 charter members of McLaughlin Post 431, G.A.R., named for Wesley McLaughlin, its first commander. Later the post had 150 members.

Tubbs had been a commander of the post before it merged with Ehret Post 447, American Legion. He enlisted at Mansfield and was assigned to Wooster in the 48th Ohio Infantry. Later he transferred to the 11th Ohio Cavalry at St. Louis, Mo., serving there for four years.

He was one of 1,640 soldiers later stationed at Ft. Larned, Wyo., to fight Indians, of whom only 680 survived.

Another Plymouthite, George Bodine, was found dead with 14 arrows and two bullets in his body. It was Tubbs who made the coffin to bury him. He brought back several arrows, which were given to the Plymouth museum.

Another Plymouthite still living in the 1930s, Thomas Bland, Trux street, belonged to Trago post in Auburn township, which had given up its charter because there were no more members living.

Five others are buried elsewhere: Elmer Parrel in Louisville, Ky.; Len Willford in Italy; Charles Rhine in France; Elwood Kuhn in Galion and Russell Steele in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven, where his body was moved from France.

Forrest McKinney, who lost his life in Vietnam, is buried in Shelby.

Peter Erving, the only Revolutionary soldier buried here, is in the family plot in Pioneer's Rest. So is his grandson, Thomas Bodine.

Others in the old cemetery are William Bodley and Peter Ruckman, War of 1812, and six others from the Civil War. These are A. O. Bodley, Lieut. D. P. Green, Capt. Thomas Kinney, George Mason, T. C. Moulton and Harvey Westfall.

There are two other veterans of wars in that cemetery, Peter Topping and Richard Armstrong, whose stones have no dates. It is likely they are both from the Civil War.

Greenlawn cemetery has an impressive list of veterans buried there.

W. Earl Cleverdon served in both the Spanish American war and World War I. Duane Ruckman served in both world wars. Jacob Schneider served in both world wars and in Korea. Gerald Funk and Alfred Parkinson served in World War II and Korea.

Poppies to be sold here tomorrow

Poppies will be sold tomorrow by auxiliary of Ehret-Parrel Post 447, American Legion.

Mrs. Joel Van Loo is this year's chairman.

Anne Kimble, daughter of the Richard Kimbles, Shiloh, and granddaughter of Mrs. Eugene R. Roeder, a past president of the auxiliary, will be the Poppy Queen. She will ride in the Memorial day parade.

New videos ready at library here

New BETA videos available in Plymouth Public library until June 16 are "A Dog of Flanders," "Jagged Edge," "Pretty in Pink," "Rambo: First Blood, part 2," and "Rikki-Tikki-Tavi."

Also, "Portrait of America-Texas," "Queen of the Stardust Ballroom," "Rocky III," "Runaway Train," "The Shaggy Dog," "Star Wars," "The Steadfast Soldier," "Telefon."

The 35 new VHS's include "All of Me," "Back to the Future," "Basic Italian Cuisine," "Cosmos, Original version - the Lives of the Stars and The Edge of Forever," "Curious George, vol. 2," "The Dead Zone."

Also, "Defenders of the Earth," "Destiny Rides Again," "Diner," "Disney's Tall Tales," "Escape from Alcatraz," "Five Mile Creek, vol. 7," "The Hidden Places," "The Homecoming," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "Island of the Blue Dolphins."

Also, "Johnny Belinda," "Julius and Jim," "King of Kings," two cassette, "Kiss of the Spider Woman," "The Littlest Horse Thieves," "The Music Man," "National Geographic Video - The Sharks," "Places in the Heart."

Lana Laser, kneeling, far right, and Katrina Riedinger, kneeling, at left, are among seven members of a Pioneer Joint Vocational school team that went to Des Moines, Ia., May 6-10. These girls were recognized for scoring 90 per cent or more in the parliamentary procedure test as individuals. Only two others received this national recognition. The team placed fifth.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Jerry Kilgore was admitted Thursday to Willard Area hospital and released Friday.

Everett Pace was taken to Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk, Monday by the Plymouth ambulance squad.

Mrs. Elsie Oney, 222 Nichols street, was taken by Plymouth ambulance squad Saturday to Willard Area hospital.

Flags on sale

Ehret-Parrel Post 447, American Legion, in cooperation with Rep. Michael Oxley, has for sale a limited number of 3 x 5 ft. nylon flags at $6 each and 5 x 8 ft. at $17 each.

These flags can be obtained by stopping at the post, 112 Trux street, or by calling a Legionnaire.

Flags will be sold on a first come, first served basis. If there are not enough flags for all, names and telephone numbers will be taken and more flags ordered.

Firemen deal with muck blaze

Plymouth firemen answered a call Monday afternoon to the Edward Alt farm in Shoup road. Muck land could not be readily extinguished but the firemen had it contained.

A daughter was born in Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk, May 13 to Janet McCracken and Roger Biesel, both of Shiloh.

Abby Marie, weighing 6 lb. 1 oz., was born in Shelby Memorial hospital, May 12 to the Rick Collinses, Shelby. Mother is the former Kimberly Wilson, daughter of the David Wilsons. Paternal grandparents are the Rogers Colquhoun. The child was treated for a lung condition in Akron Children's hospital for a week and is now at home with her parents.

A daughter was born Thursday in Mansfield General hospital to the Ralph Hales, 41 East Main street.

APB out for alumni of 1977

Seventeen graduates of the Class of 1977 cannot be located to be invited to the 10th anniversary reunion at Days Inn, Park Avenue west, Mansfield, on June 20.

Persons knowledgeable of their whereabouts are invited to notify the chairman, Mrs. P. T. Walters, 2022 Steiber, Westland, Mich. 48185.

She seeks the addresses and/or telephone numbers of John Bailey, Gloria Baker, Cheryl Bernhardt, Kathy Blankenship, Kayleen Brown, Michael Dick, Kevin Finnegan, Robert Furr, Marianne Hamilton.

Also, Judy Hatfield, Esther Hanson, Marcia Hartman, Sandra Kessler, Louis Lynch, 2nd, Toby Thompson, Cherie Warner and Jaki Wimbiger.

Fletcher wins high award in work study

A 12th grader, Eddie Fletcher, son of the Mark Fletchers, Park avenue, is the outstanding work study pupil of the year.

He was so recognized at the annual banquet at Mansfield May 15.

He has been employed at Har- die's, Willard, for eight months. He is assigned now to the training to newly recruited personnel.

A participant in cross country, he has served as baseball and basketball manager.

ELAINE HAWK

Alumni to dine at Shiloh

Shiloh alumni banquet will be Saturday in the school cafeteria at 6 p.m.

Co-chairmen this year are Mrs. Jean Moser Holmes and Mrs. Harmer Sloan.

The classes to be honored this year are those of 1927 and 1937, observing their 60th and 50th anniversaries, respectively.

The earlier class of 14 members had Rudy Rader, Jr. as its president. The valedictorian was Mildred Melick and Madge Wells the salutatorian.

Members were Edward Brum- bach, roscoe Shatzer, Donald Hamman, Eugene Dickerson, Merle Bard, Thomas Ruckman.

Harold Higgins, Leola Hamman, Dorothy Kissel, Lillian Furney and Elizabeth Wilson.

The 50-year class was headed by Eugene Boor. That year Esther Harrington was the valedictorian and Evelyn Hoffman salutatorian.

Members were Edwin Arnold, Betty and Virginia Backenst, Mary Clinker, Doris Daup, Hershel Dininger, Marjorie England, Eugene Fackler, Perry Gunders, Jesse Wayne Hamman, Wallace Harny, Geneva Haverfield, Eldon McQuate, Greta Meek, Dora Noble, Janet Pugh, Lilly Richards, Ernestine Riggie, Virginia Sutter and Luella Zellers.

Sister Paquette assigned to replace nun here

Sister Phyllis Paquette will succeed Sister Mary Kuhlman, who came here Sept. 1, 1977, as pastoral administrator of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church. She was chosen by the local search committee from a field of two other finalists and approved by Bishop James T. Hoffman. Sister Paquette is now assigned to a Windsor, Ont., Canada, parish.

Four to recite at convention

Four Plymouth pianists have been accepted for participation in the All-Ohio piano ensemble to perform before the convention of the Ohio Music Teachers association, Capital university, Bexley, June 14.

Elaine Hawk and Justin Slauson will play piano duets as part of a mass piano ensemble. All four are pupils of Mrs. Christine Hawk Pekare.

RICHARD C. RETTIG

Rettig plot in hands of son

Real estate of the late Clarice C. Rettig has been conveyed to Richard C. Rettig, Huron county recorder.

Miss Smart set for state band

Danell D. Smart, trombonist in Plymouth High school band, has been selected to play in this year's 300-member All-Ohio State Band at Columbus Aug. 7-21, after six days of rehearsals.

'69 graduate weds radio news reporter

Miss Marianne F. Phillips and her bridegroom, Roger Biesel, were married Apr. 25 in a double ring ceremony in Grace Episcopal church, Mansfield, by the Rev. David S. Sipes.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clyde Phillips and the late Mr. Phillips.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Williamson and the grandson of Mrs. Carl C. Carnahan.

The bride's gown of satin with lace sleeves and bodice was worn by her mother, the former Mary Markley, when she was married June 12, 1954. The skirt was two layers of cream colored tulle that fell in folds. A small headdress of satin roses held her fingertip veiling, that fell down the back.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations with pink alstroemeria and baby's breath, tied with pink and mint green streamers.

Mrs. Connie L. Stineman, Lexington, was matron of honor, and Catherine M. Burch, Fairfield, was maid of honor.

They wore short mint green dresses with short sleeved blouses and carried skirts with tulip ruffles. They also carried bouquets of white carnations with pink alstroemeria and baby's breath.

Steven Williamson, Bethel Park, Pa., the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

The bride's brothers, Christopher and Clyde Phillips, and Timothy Moore ushered.

After the ceremony a reception took place in the undercroft. The couple went to Hilton Head Island, S.C., for a wedding trip and is now living in Shelby.

The new Mrs. Williamson is a Willard High school graduate who attended the Mansfield branch of Ohio State university, and Tiffin university, Tiffin. She is a news reporter for Station WSWR in Shelby.

Mr. Williamson graduated from Plymouth High school in 1969 and received his bachelor's degree in communications from Ball State university, Muncie, Ind.

He is president and general manager of WSWR.

McIntires sell—

operation there in 1954 and there have been two others in that trade since, as well as a garden and tool supply business and some others' number of years, breaking out the village now reduces the McIntire holdings to three dwelling houses, one in Mills avenue and two in Plymouth street, including what has been since 1945 the family homestead. The McIntires retain ownership of the family farm in Plymouth Springmill road, deeded to the family over the personal signature of the president of the United States in the early 1800's. It has for several years been tenanted farmed by Roger Daron.

Clues sought in murder

Police at Brownsville, Tex., still are tracing clues that may lead them to the slayer of Harry Eugene Hoyer, Jr., a 1976 alumnus of Plymouth High school, whose mutilated remains were found in desert country near Brownsville, May 3. They have said his slaying, by bullet wound to the head, was probably drug-connected.
