ASHLAND — New London scored a clean sweep at Saturday's Firelands Conference track championships.

The Wildcats won the girls title for the fifth time in six years with 118 points while Monroeville was right behind with 111.

New London won the boys title for the fifth time since 1981 and ended a two-year reign by Mapleton.

"Everyone just dug down and came up with a good effort," said New London boys coach Bob Knoll.

"We were leading after the field events and that's unusual for us. Very seldom do we get rolling in the field events," added Knoll.

Leading the way for the Wildcats were Marty Abfall with three firsts and Ravi Sharma chipped in with victories in the 1600 and 3200. Stacey Knight doubled up in the 1600 and 800 for the New London girls.
