Havamal

Plymouth High School

"To all great popular leaders and lawgivers are often attributed the dogmas and words of wisdom which form part of their creed. It is not therefore surprising to find the great Norse code of morality, known under the name of Havamal, attributed to Odin; Havamal meaning the 'Song of the High'."

quoted from: THE VIKING AGE
Chapter 24 Volume 2
written by: Paul B. Du Chaillu

It Is Long Out Of One's Way
 To A Bad Friend,
 Though He Live On The Road;
 But To A Good Friend
 There Are Short Paths
 Though He Be Farther Off.

WHAT IS THE HAVAMAL?

For many years now our yearbook has carried the title Havamal but, many people have not grasped the significance the name carries. That is why this year, not only the book's title, but also our theme will be Havamal.

The Havamal is a long narrative poem which contains Viking legions and rules of living. It was supposedly stolen by the great war god Odin. No one knows who originally composed it or when, but it has been in existence for many, many years.

It has been handed down through word of mouth, probably being changed and revised through the centuries.

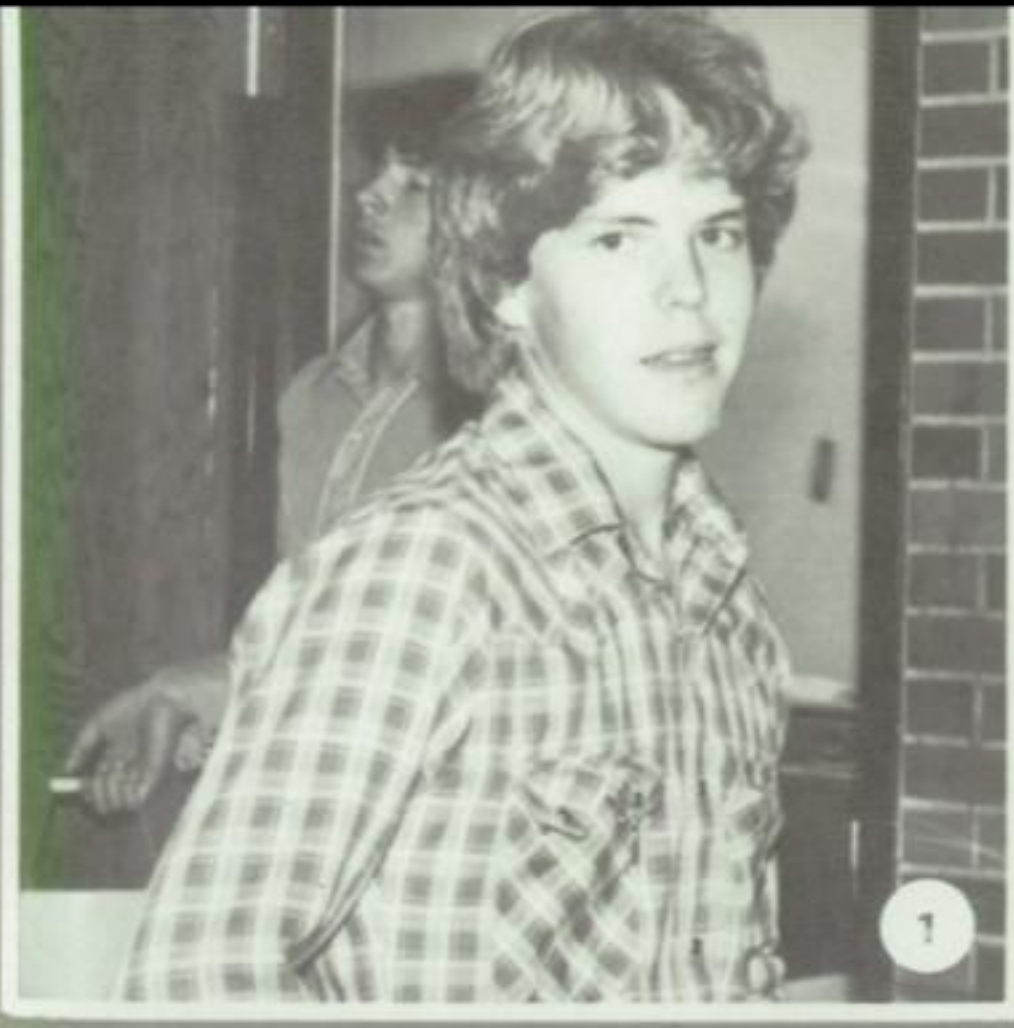

Paul Du Chaillu was probably the first author to put the poem into book form. Many of the verses he quotes were taken from ancient manuscripts found in such countries as Denmark and Norway. Mr. Chaillu quoted the verses as he found them written, in order to preserve their originality and flowing poetic form. Because of this many of the verses contain words which no longer are used in our vocabulary, thus making the true meaning of the verse hard to understand. Yet most of the advise given in the poem could be applied to our daily life. The Havamal contains:

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| Rules of life.                              | A guest should not outstay his welcome.        |
| The duty of hospitality.                    | The value of a home however humble.            |
| Folly of boasting.                          | No man should be a friend of his foe's friend. |
| The wise man keeps his eyes and ears open.  | Every man has two sides to his character.      |
| Wits are better than wealth.                | Man's happiness.                               |
| Drink destroys reason.                      | Wealth is the most unstable of friends.        |
| The duty of cheerfulness and bravery.       | The fickleness of women.                       |
| Over-eating.                                | All is fair in love.                           |
| We should not worry.                        | Do not neglect your friends.                   |
| All who smile on a man are not his friends. | No man is without his faults.                  |
| The value of silence                        |  |

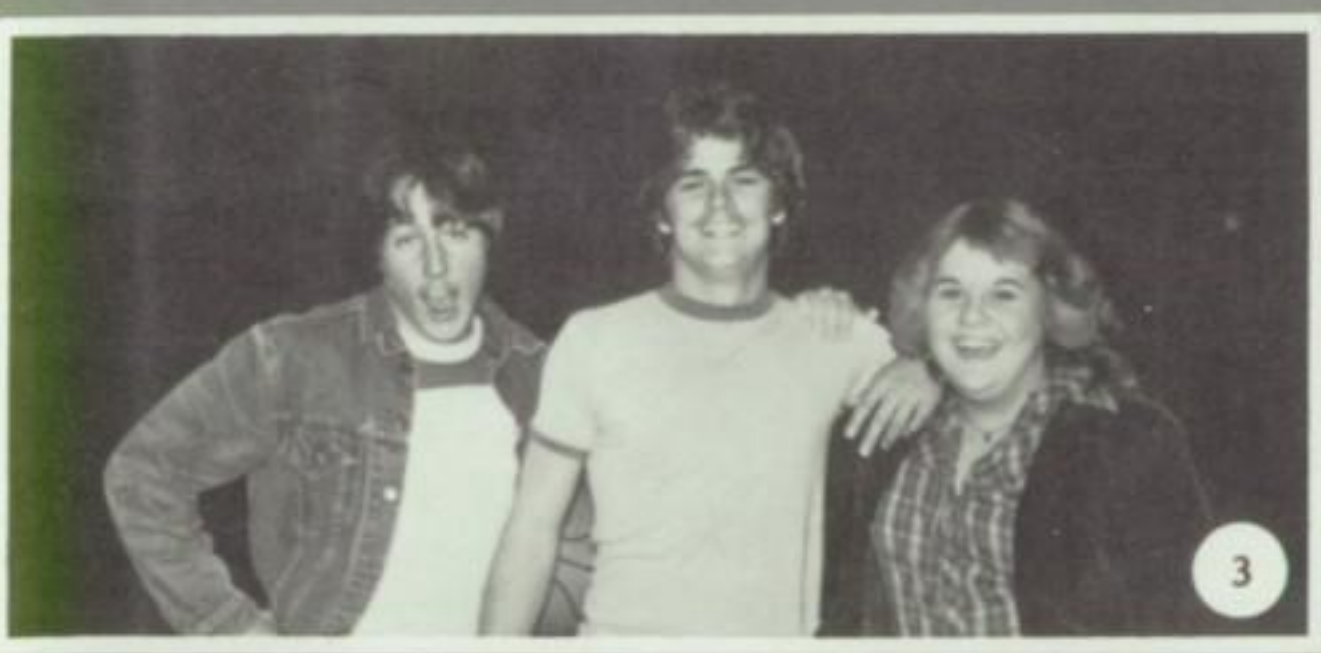

Proverbs and wise sayings.

Cross Country On The Run!

The 1982-83 Cross Country team was lead by Coach Paul Gase. Cross Country is a very hard, enduring sport that takes alot of time and dedication. The highlight of the season was placing 12th out of 20 at the sectionals. Loren Kranz, the most valuable player, broke the school record at 16:23 for the 5000 meter and qualified for district.

The team endured many days of long, hard running to overcome the difficult courses throughout the season. To a cross country runner the clock is their greatest competitor. The Cross Country team finished the season with an overall record of 3-6. Returning lettermen were Fayette Hudson, Jeff Caudill, and Jesse Woodmansee. Team captain was Fayette Hudson and manager was Dianna Hudson. The 1982-83 Cross Country team would like to give special thanks to Tim Nesbitt, parents, and Joyce Gase for all their help and support.

A WORD FROM THE ADVISOR

The 1983 Havamal staff underwent many changes this year. Only 2 veteran members returned to be on the '83 staff, Elyse Kucinic and Sarah Keinath. The rest were rookies and had much to learn, but everyone pulled through to produce an outstanding book!

Working on the yearbook can be very frustrating and time consuming but it also has its rewards. The relief of stamping FINAL COPY on the last deadline envelope in June to be sent in is a great feeling. The anticipation of waiting for the actual book to arrive in August is awesome, to say nothing as to the great feeling of holding it as you look through it for the first time.

There are several people I would like to thank for making the production of the yearbook possible. First of all thanks to all the dedicated "yearbookies": Elyse Kucinic, Editor; Sheila Castle and Frank Lawrence, Seniors; Sharon Mumea and Michell Hammons, Juniors; Sarah Keinath, Sophomore; and our ghost member, Shelli Mowry. Thanks!!!

A special thanks to Dave Sotora for taking cafeteria supervision for me when we had deadlines to meet.

To Chuck Campbell, our Jostens Publishing Consultant, who made all things possible, THANKS! He always made us feel like we were doing a great job.

Thanks to our Principal, Mr. Slauson, who TRUSTED in us . . . We appreciate your support and confidence!

Last but not least, I want to thank the 1983 editor, Elyse Kucinic, for without her much of the style, classic layouts and excellent design of the book would not be possible. Although I feel she did not always have the confidence or courage to actually take over the staff and lead the others, she made up for it by consistently coming up with remarkable layouts and ideas.

And as always . . . Enjoy your book!!!!

Big Changes In Big Red Football Season

The Big Red had 15 returning lettermen this year and it proved to be helpful. Among those 15 lettermen were Seniors Jeff Jacobs (co-capt.), Greg Polachek (co-capt.), Rick Hawkins, and James Will.

The team had many firsts this season, two of the most important being, new head coach Dick Roll and P.H.S. joining the Firelands Conference.

The dedication and hard work put forth by the guys payed off in many ways through the season, the first time being in the first game against Buckeye Central. The Big Red won the game in the last six seconds with Richard Cunningham intercepting a pass and running it in for a touchdown making the final score 20-13.

After a few disappointing losses, the team played an excellent Homecoming game against Edison. The Big Red showed a great display of defense as they held the conference winning Chargers scoreless for the first three periods. Coach Roll felt that this was the best played game of the season.

Plymouth won its second game of the season and its first ever in the Firelands Conference by defeating Norwalk St. Paul 7-6. A Jeff Jacobs to Darren Branham pass tied the score with 2:09 left in the game. James Will then kicked the extra point to put the Big Red ahead.

Dave Burkett was named Ideal Viking with Greg Polachek winning the sportsmanship award and Rick Hawkins receiving the scholastic award. Greg was also named punter for the all-state team.

All in all the season was a success and an improvement over past years. The team's final record was 2-8.

Coach Roll would like to thank all of the fans for their support. He said that he enjoyed the season and is looking forward to next year.

Season Record 7 and 8

The Lady Spikes :Varsity

Volleyball, is a very tough sport. A team member must be quick, make fast decisions, and willing to take a fall — emotionally as well as physically.

This season, the varsity squad worked mostly on skill improvement. Even with the leadership of their team captain, Glenda Will, and the knowledge and strong support of varsity coach Linda Bevier, the long hours and hard work did not pay off. The season record, needless to say, was not the best. But the experience and the gained knowledge will eventually pay off in the seasons to come.

The returning lettermen consisted of Kim Daron, Glenda Will, and Martha Reynolds. Martha was also voted as Most Valuable Player, and Kelly Wilson took the title of Most Improved.

All of the Lady Spikes agreed that the toughest team they played against was Crestview, who ended up as Conference champs.

"The losing record does not reflect the winning attitude of these girls," said Coach Bevier. "They were positive when times were tough and they were very hard workers during practice and games. The improvement of individual and team performance throughout the season was tremendous!" she continued. "We look forward to a strong team next year."

The Plymouth High School presented the "Music Man" as their fall musical, November 19th, 20th, and 21st. This was a very hard musical to get organized but still a very worthwhile experience. We started practicing in September two or three days a week and by the end of October we began practicing every day Monday-Thursday. We didn't have practice on Fridays because of football. We practiced two Saturday's and one Sunday. A lot of practicing had to be put into this musical. Our director was Miss Joni Rinaldi. She is also the choir director. We would practice for at least three to four hours a day. On Thursday, November 18th, we got out of school all day and went to the Shiloh Jr. High and elementary and Plymouth Elementary, and we performed for the kids. They loved it! Then we came back to school from 6:00 until we finished everything for dress rehearsal. It was a hard performance and it took a lot of time to practice but we had a lot of fun doing it.

- by Sharon Mumea

The Music Man was written by Meredith Wilson and Franklin Lacey with the music and lyrics by Wilson. The musical took place in a small, lifeless town called River City. In Spring, Music Man (Harold Hill) comes to town. Harold Hill, who is a traveling salesman, ventures into River City to sell his instruments and uniforms. He convinces all the townspeople, especially the children, that his idea of forming and directing a band is fitting. Although Harold cannot read a note of music, he still convinces them, with the exception of Marion Paroo, the librarian and local music teacher. Marion is going to tell all the townspeople about Hill, but notices the children, including her own brother, are enjoying themselves and it appears they are benefiting from playing in the band. Seeing this is a good thing, Marion does not expose Hill and eventually falls in love with him. After the town realizes the good that Harold Hill brought to them, they all lived happily-ever-after!

Returning Lettermen: Jon Strine, Larry Brooks, Clarence Moorman, Jesse Miller, Dave Burkett, Richard Cunningham, Jim Will, and Junior Adams.

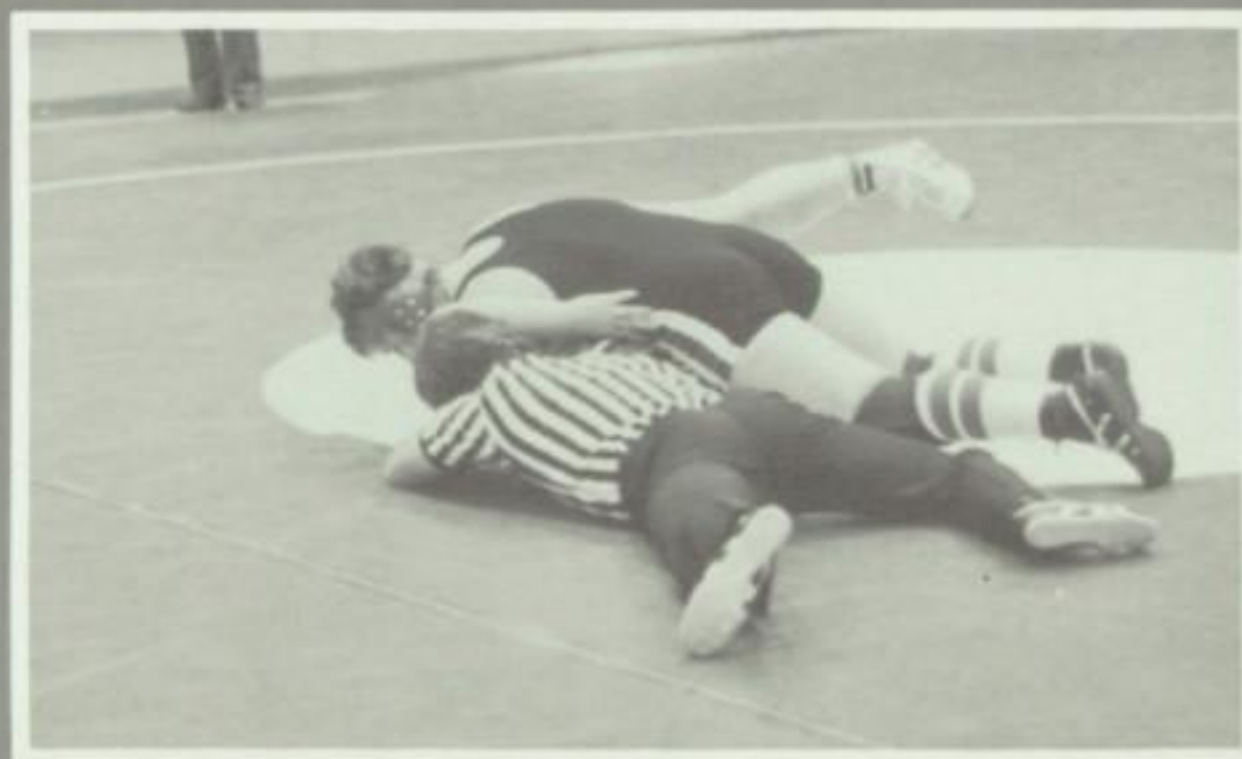

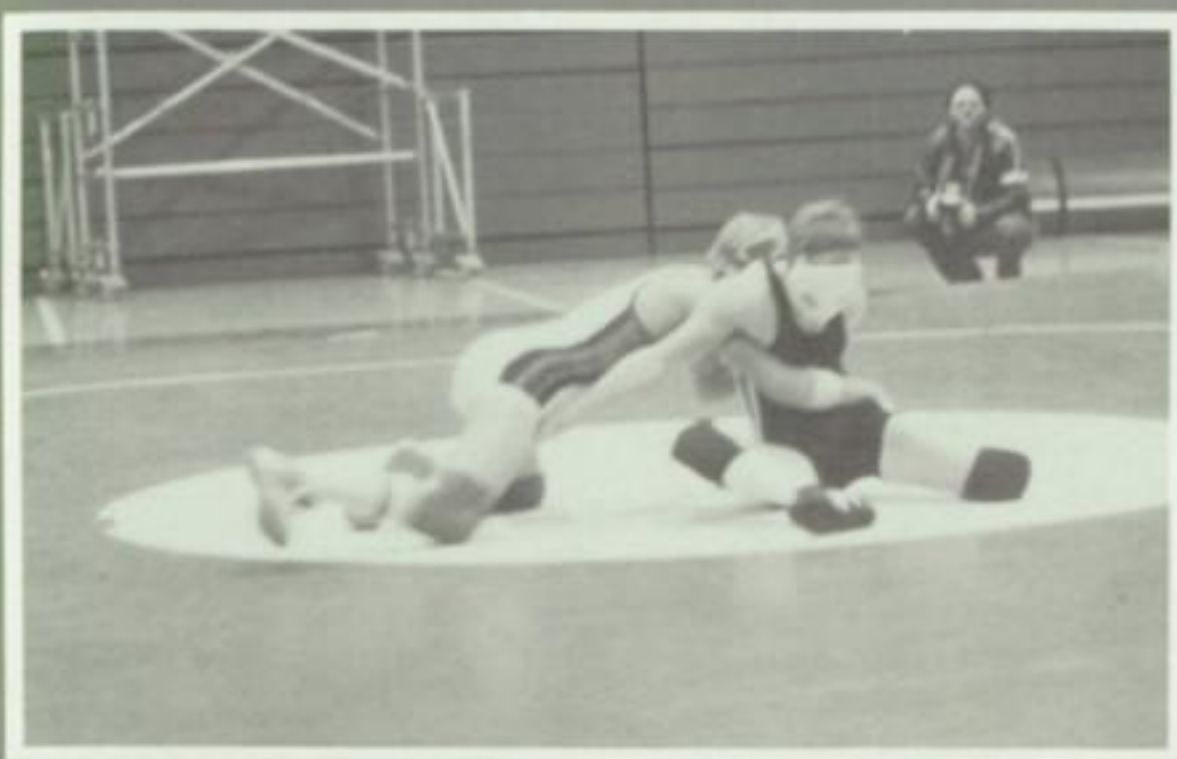

Endurance is the name of the game when you're out there on the mat. The key word to wrestling is skill. An average wrestler goes through a tremendous amount of pain and humiliation. But what they live for is the thrill of victory.

Seniors Clarence Moorman, Dave Burkett, and Jim Will helped the team out with their experience. Team captains and co-captains also consisted of the Seniors. With their help and excellent coaching ability of Dick Roll, the team managed to pull through the season with a 6-8 record.

The highlight of the season was winning the Bucyrus invitational. The wrestlers came in first place out of four teams! Two of the wrestlers qualified for district . . . Terry Parrigan and Dave Burkett. Jim Will was voted the Most Dedicated Player, Terry Parrigan had the Most Pins, and the Scholastic Award was given to Clarence Moorman. A special assistant to Coach Roll was Bill Hudson, who helped the team out quite a bit.

The whole team would like to give a special "thanks" to all the parents for their loyal support to the wrestling program.

Approaching Proverbial Corner

For the 1982-83 season, the Big Red had eight returning lettermen. Among these were four seniors: Jeff Fenner, Rick Hawkins, Greg Polachek and Craig Thornsberry. Team co-captains were Greg Polachek and junior, Rodney Hampton.

The biggest thrill of the '82-83 season proved to be the win over Mapleton. Coach Dunn felt this was also the best game played. He commented "We were able to hold a lead and preserve a victory."

Coach Dunn would like to extend special thanks to Patti and Marty McKenzie for all their help in keeping stats. He pointed out that this was a tough season in terms of win-loss record but feels the underclassmen gained some needed experience. He closes by saying "We are ready to turn the proverbial corner."

The P.H.S. girl's basketball season started out a little different this year. Besides this being the first season in the Fireland's Conference, it was also the first year of coaching for 1972 Plymouth graduate Brad Ream.

This year's Seniors and co-captains were Lisa Daron, Fayette Hudson, and Sharon Neidermeier. Lisa and Fayette are also included as returning lettermen along with Rhonda Branham, who set a new record for most steals . . . 115 in a season.

Congratulations are in order to Lisa Daron who qualified for 2nd Team Firelands & Special Mention District, and to Rhonda Branham who qualified for Honorable Mention Firelands & Special Mention District.

Coach Ream believes that the highlights of the 82-83 season were defeating the Crestview Cougars and the New London Wildcats. And that the toughest team played was Mansfield St. Peter's because of their defense.

Ending the season with an 11-10 record, it goes to show that these girls handle change fairly well.

Coach Ream would like to extend special thanks to Diane and Keith Mowry, Frank Garber, Dana Myers, Mr. Cook, Mr. Staggs, and to all the parents for their help and cooperation.

FFA

The purpose of FFA is to promote agriculture. Members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in public meeting, to speak in public, to buy and sell cooperatively, and to finance themselves. This year in celebration of FFA Week, they had tractor day, hat day, and a contest to guess that number of soybeans in a jar. This year they sold fresh fruit once again for a fund-raiser.

The FFA also offers chance and opportunity in fields of agriculture. Students take part in a judging contest and also help put out the crops on the FFA farms.

This year's 1983 boy's track season started off with big changes . . . a new coach, Keith Diebler, and assistant coach, Dan Donahue. Also started into a new conference.

This year's Seniors and co-captains were Rick Hawkins and Jim Will. Both Rick and Jim advanced to regionals with Rick having a time of 5.28 in the 440 and Jim having a height of 12 ft. in the pole vault.

Coach Diebler thought that the biggest thrill of the season was working hard and winning over South Central. Also the teammates agreed that placing 8th at Seneca East relays was super. This year's awards were as follows: Most Valuable Player-Rick Hawkins, Most Improved- Dan Sponseller, Most points scored- Rick Hawkins, Steve Ruckman Award-Chris Barnthouse.

Coach Diebler believes that the highlight of the season was seeing the Maturity of the team as a whole and he said he was very proud of these young men. He quoted, "They have shown class and have gotten respect in the area."

This is the second year of Back to School Days. This is when the parents of students come in place of their child to see how school life is and how it has changed. Approximately 30 parents came in to spend the day the same as their son or daughter would on a typical day.

According to Evaluations the parents filled out at the end of the day, they all enjoyed themselves, considering this day a worthwhile experience.

Humor Of Homer

Mr. Heyl's 4th period English II class participated in the 1st Ohio Olympics of the Mind. A contest which presents the students with a problem in which they have to come up with a creative solution.

The problem chosen was one involving the Odyssey, a story written by Homer, a Greek writer, about the travels of Odysseus as he sails the seas trying to reach his homeland after fighting in the mighty battle of Troy.

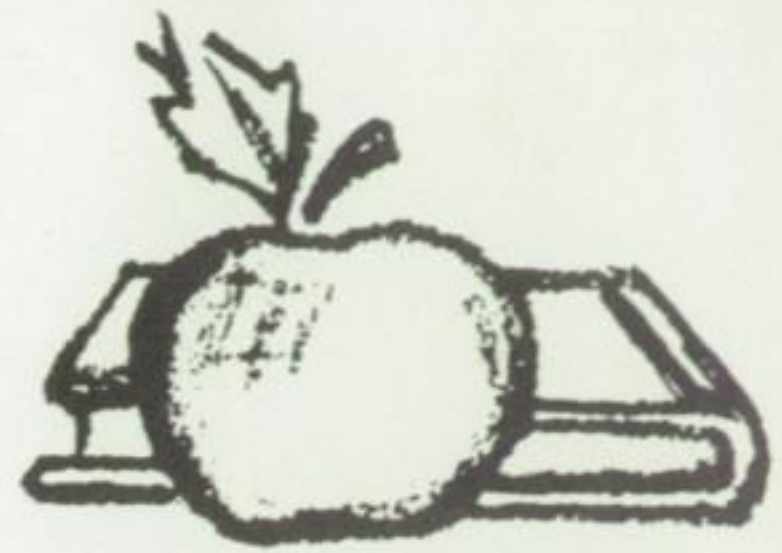

The team consisted of five people who spent much time practicing (1). The other members of the class worked just as hard on costumes, scenery, props, dialogue and sound effects.

At last the big day came! On February 26, the team went to Malabar High School to compete in the local competition (2). At 10:50 in the Library the story unfolds.

Odysseus and his men were wondering throughout the woods looking for food (3) when they heard the singing of the wicked enchantress Circe (4) who invited them in and fed them poison wine (5) which turned all but Odysseus, who did not drink of it, into swine (7). After kissing the feet of the God Hermes (8) Odysseus is given a magic herb which allows him to face Circe and regain his men. One of them is killed and Odysseus travels to Hades to visit him and his mother (9) who tells them how to get home.

Our team won and was on it's way to the District Competition but was hit by the flu bug and had to drop out. We hope next year will be better.

School Board

This year's school board members are: (l to r clockwise) Mr. Echelbarger; Mr. Barnthouse; Mrs. Pugh, Pres.; Mr. Miller; Mr. Reinhart.

Nutrition Education Training

This year Plymouth was awarded a Nutrition Grant by the State of Ohio. Mrs. Olewiler, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Tracey were responsible for our obtaining the grant. They wrote and presented it to the State Dep. of Nutritional Education. We were one out of 70 schools that applied for this money but one of the few that actually recieved the grant.

A nutrition team was made up of a few faculty members whose goal was to get nutirional activities into as many classes as possible.

In Health and Pys. Ed. all students were weighed in order to make them aware of their own weight and the normal weight for their size.

The Home Ec. department did an extensive study of different types of diets and they learned how to prepare well balanced, nutritious meals.

Foreign language classes made nutritious Pinates and tasty nutritious dishes from other countries.

Some English students wrote Journals on Nutritious habits and the Math students made use of the new computers aquired by Mrs. Albright and Mr. Amstutz by using them to program calorie counting menus and recipes.

The Art I students made posters depicting good nutrition. Art II students made bigger than life foods. These were all hung in the cafeteria where new items have been added to the menu. Salads, honeybuns, danishes and fresh fruit was made available to the students.

Through it all the students and staff were made more aware of just what they were putting into their bodies. After all, you are what you eat.

2,003

Space, the final frontier. These are the voyages of the Class of 1983 in the year 2,003.

Taking off in our uniquely built spacecraft designed by STEVE TACKETT, built by DAVID BURKETT, and programmed by JESSE WOODMANSEE, we are headed for the Twilight Zone from our large space colony located on Planet Bish. Ever since the Russians took over most of the world a lot of us have been living here. Yet we still travel back and forth to see those who have stayed behind.

We seem to have quite a few passengers loading the craft at the moment. Among the more famous are two women, SHARON PARKINSON and KATHY HORNE. Sharon has replaced Jane Russell as the full-figured woman and Kathy has designed her new line of super-support garments.

Standing behind them waiting to board are CHEYNE MCGINNIS and FORREST OSBORNE who are taking some time off from their strenuous work as being the P.H.S. truant officers to be with us.

Peering out from behind their waists is TRACEY COATS, who has recently opened up a children's clothing store in which she does her own modeling.

Then comes FAYETTE HUDSON running in from behind. She has been very busy training for the "Adams" Marathon and filming her debut in the ever popular "Adams" Family comedy show.

It looks as if the last passenger is the well-known author CRAIG THORNSBERRY, who after college took over R.G.'s coaching job and lost it 2 years later due to the success of his book, "How to Foul Out in Five Easy Moves."

As the door begins to close, a young man dressed in black comes running up yelling, "Wait a minute, wait a minute!" It's Reverend STONY CRAGER who obviously took his part in Concepts too seriously and became a minister.

STUMBO and JOHN ROBINSON, prepare to launch, an explosion is heard from the passenger chamber. Quickly, the announcer of the flight, NANCY HEMPFIELD-THOMPSON, yells to the alarmed crowd, "Never fear, mighty BRIAN FRISBY, our mechanic is here with his brand new left-handed "Phillips" screwdriver patented by PAULA PHILLIPS. Also for your convenience, KIM SCHRINER and JACKIE BARNETT, the hostesses, will be serving you and LAURA STIDAM has prepared gourmet meals. We have everything you need, satisfaction guaranteed. Our first stop will be at the Omega Races held at the Galaxian Speedway in the Milky Way. Upon landing, several of our guests went to the refreshment stand where TRACI CAYWOOD, President of "Miller" Beer, is working. We hear that JEFF JACOBS, owner of his own "Natural Gass Company" is supplying the gas for the drivers. Due to the hazards involved in the race, GREG BROWN, an auto repairman, is on hand to make any repairs; but he specializes in broken windshields.

Because of the delay in the beginning of the trip, there are only two rocket dragsters left in the final heat, GREG TAYLOR and DAVID BAKER. The mechanic for Greg is JIM WILL while David's is OWEN REYNOLDS.

Signaling the start of the final heat is DEBBIE CRABBS her is MARCIA STEPHENS who flew in from California where she opened a fortune telling stand specializing in predicting bad breath. Her sign reads: "Super California Mystic; Expert; Halitosis."

Sitting among the crowd are SCOTT MASTERS and LENA JAMES. We recently watched Scott win "The Masters Golf Tournament" on TV. And Lena is a travel agent who gives special rates on trips to Alabama.

As the race begins, the drivers take off and so must we on the next leg of our journey. Along the way we apss three popular clinics. One is owned by GREG POLACHEK, who after being instructor of his fat farm, "Rola Pola Check Inn." The next one is a health spa called, "Strong Arms," owned by ROD STRONG and MIKE ARMS. This spa has everything from a swimming pool to video games. Speaking of video games, RHONDA McDONALD has designed a new game called Ms. McDonald. If there can be a Ms. PacMan, why not a Rhonda McDonald. The third one is called "Shepherds Unlimited," owned by the trio DESTRY, NALINE, and LINDA SHEPHERD. They breed, train, and provide veterinarian services. German Shepherds are their total specialization.

To pick up some snacks for the next event, we stop at LISA BALDRIDGE's "Grociery" Store where she specializes in chips with dips. There we can see BOB JAMERSON who won a sand castle contest with his version of "Mack's Fantasyland", done on the beaches of the Richland County Stone Quarry.

The next place we are going to stop is the fames Kucinic Hall formed by ELYSE KUCINIC and DENISE HALL. Tonight three top chart bands will be playing in the Galaxy Series of Moon Nuggets alias World Series of Rock.

Since we have arrived early we take our seats and wait eagerly for the others. Most of our classmates will be coming except for a few who are unable to attend. Among them is BRIAN EDLER who has been "missing in action". He was last seen driving a pizza truck through Asteroid country. Also, JAMES BEVERLY, MARY NEASE, and CLA-RENCE MOORMAN cannot attend. James is out in California — seems he inherited Beverly Hills. Mary is busy in her laboratory doing research on trying to prove that Mary. Mary was not contrary. And Peanut, I mean Clarence, is busy plowing Jimmy Carter's "Peanut" farm which he bought. DONALD MAVER, also unable to attend, is kept very busy traveling all over the country promoting his new chainsaw creation — one that will start only in the out-of-doors.

Someone has informed us that TODD WEBER and JANET

WALTERS have recently married and are still on their honeymoon at the Shiloh Inn. We have also heard that Todd will be replacing Mr. Dickson's position as the P.O.D. teacher and Janet will be replacing Mr. Heyl as the English teacher using her new flowery approaches to teaching.

Now two shiny limousines pull up with an assortment of celebrities. Appearing from the first one are MIKE MOORE, CHUCK WARNER, and DAN HUNT. Mike has been busy shooting his two new movies, "The Moon" and

"Eggs Sunny-Side Up." Chuck is making Mike's movies at "Warner Bros." Also for Mike's second movie, JAY ADAMS is providing the eggs. Jay is the main supplier for the Easter Bunny and is too preoccupied to attend. Dan changed his name to "Mike Hunt" because he wanted to star in Porky's II. Shuffling out of the second limo is SHARON NEIDERMEIER, who took over Rosann, Rosanna Danna's place on Saturday Nite Live. Following her are LAURA KLEMAN and LISA DARON. Laura has a talk show called "Laura's Lingo" On her program they try to answer the age-old question: "Do blondes really have more fun?" Lisa is the main writer for the popular soap opera, "The Young and the Darn."

Walking in last, but surely not least, are BRAD DAVIES, JEFF FENNER, and RICK HAWKINS. Brad does comical promotions for Sohio called "It's a Gas!" Jeff has his own men's haircare company, "Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow." And Rick, who is now known as Rick-etta, follows them in. You see, after he won the "Klinger" look-alike contest he had a sex change operation in order to win the Barbara Streisand contest. His operation was done under the close observation of HAR-MON "Hormone" GAYHEART, whose career is genetic engineering.

We are now ready to start the long-awaited event. CINDY KEESY sets off the night with her spectacular fire-cracker show. She owns her own fire-cracker company. The crowd goes bizerk!!

The first singer, JEFF LANEY, walks onto the stage, picks up his guitar, and grabs the microphone. He is famous for his two country pop chart hits, "You Stole My Wife, You Horse Thief," and "I Could Have Been A Belt Maker, But I Couldn't Buckle Down." He seems a bit nerbous because he usually sings at a small honky tonk nightclub owned by DAVID VANDERPOOL and LANETTE COMPTON.

The next group is a female trio called Jode and the JJ's. Featuring JODI JORDAN, JENNIFER MCKENZIE, and JONETTE PRATER. Their latest hit, "I left My Tart In Aunt Fran's Crisco," has brought them much recognition.

Suddenly, the crowd bursts into an uncontrollable uproar chanting, "We love you, Frankie, Oh Yes We Do!!" Now, who could they possibly mean? None other than the new teen idol,

FRANK LAWRENCE, with his newly formed band - - Get Jousted. The long-haired wild man TOM NEWMAYER keeps the beat at the drums. He recently tried to defend his title as the "Nasty" Newmeyer against Dan, "The Speller" Sponseller but lost. Jamming on the guitar is VICKIE FEEMAN while howling out the back-up vocals is CHRIS HOWELL. They have currently hit the charts with Frank's song, "I Can't Get No Social Security Benefits."

After the concert we decide to stop for breakfast at one of DAWN ROBERTSON's restaurants. She owns her own chain, "Breakfast at Dawn." Sitting alone at one of the tables is SHEILA CASTLE. Sheila started a new line of "Castle Keep" restaurants in Kentucky. She must have just flown in and missed the concert.

Crowded around another table are four girls, VICKIE BROWN, AMY ECHELBARGER, LINDA STEELE, and NANCY RITCHIE. It sounds as if they're yelling something. Who are they screaming at? Let's move closer so we can hear and see what's going on. Oh, they're shouting, "Mrs. Albright, we're just about finished with the Senior Class Prophecy!!!!!!"

Just as soon as they put the final touch on the prophecy, we will be taking off. We want to get it ready for print for the 20 year reunion held later this year.

We've got so much to do.

We've got so much to see.

You'll be hearing from us —

We're the Class of '83!

The 1983 Havamal staff would like to extend a special thanks to Mrs. Barbara Sponsellar and Mrs. Barbara Burks from the PHS Parents Volunteer group. They finished our advertising campaign by selling ads to Shelby merchants. Without their help, this book would not have been possible. Many Thanks!
