1,000 POINTS

Tyrell Edmiston and Tyson Beebe, teammates, classmates and best friends — “more like brothers,” Edmiston insisted — each scored his 1,000th career point Tuesday evening in Plymouth’s 74-55 win over visiting Seneca East. And each did it in a way that symbolizes his varsity career.

For Edmiston, the freakishly athletic 6-foot-4 junior forward, that meant a thunderous dunk after an offensive rebound. For Beebe, a 6-foot slasher who has made himself into a lethal perimeter scorer through countless hours in the gym and thousands of extra shots, it was a quick-release 3-pointer from the left baseline.

A Letter from the Editor

I've had a lot of fun in yearbook the past three years. I've learned a lot, and done a lot. Taking pictures at basketball games and track meets, standing on the sidelines at Homecoming, just to get a picture of the queen being crowned, or even just spending hours after school is out to finish up the Graduation pages, those are the memories I'll never forget. To all those in yearbook next year, work hard, but enjoy it too. It goes by so fast. Let Lewie help you when you need it, but be creative on your own too. Lewie puts a lot of work into the yearbook, so put in some work too.

Have fun!

Amy Grube
